

DESPERATE HOUSECAT DAISY KATE

DAISY KATE is a sweet, affectionate, funny cat who was brought to AAC with a bad injury to her left leg (it has completely healed). She's playful (she loves stuffed toys), likes to sit next to you on the couch, and will curl up by your knees at night. DAISY KATE enjoys being petted and purrs quietly. She's a great companion for a human, and gets along beautifully with other cats. She's so easy going, she'd probably be fine with cat-friendly dogs given proper introductions. Because of her past injury, DAISY KATE's leg will always look a little bald, and her foot is a little larger. This doesn't bother her, and shouldn't present any future health issues. The injury was sensitive before it healed, and DAISY KATE can be nervous about being touched in certain places. Her adopter will want to learn to read her signals that say she doesn't want to be petted. She would do best in a home with no young children.
