

DESPERATE HOUSECAT DAISY A841706

Are you an animal 'HERO'? If so, you could be DAISY's CHAMPION! She was brought to AAC as a stray when she was just two months old, and she was diagnosed with a congenital heart condition called Tetralogy of Fallot. This condition will decrease her life expectancy, and unfortunately, cardiac surgery is not a viable option. DAISY may respond to heart medications (prescribed by a cardiologist) that will manage heart failure. Currently, DAISY is VERY happy, energetic and playful. She loves to snuggle with her foster parents as much as she loves to play. She has never met a stranger, and is wonderful with her feline foster siblings. In her short life, DAISY will provide her new family with tons of love and companionship.
