

DESPERATE HOUSECAT GIGI A749257

GIGI is as affectionate and friendly as she is adorable! She arrived at AAC as a stray, very thin and very uncomfortable (her mouth was swollen). She was diagnosed with stomatitis, a serious and very painful condition that can be life threatening if left untreated. A local veterinary clinic performed a thorough dental cleaning for GIGI, extracting her infected molars, and leaving her healthy incisors and canines. Now living in a foster home, GIGI has completely recovered, and is happy and healthy. She loves laps, belly rubs, and being picked up and held. GIGI is tolerant of other cats but wouldn't mind being the only cat in the household. We don't know how she is with dogs, but she is probably great with children.
