

DESPERATE HOUSECAT LUNA A842510

Do you like to give all of your attention to just one feline? Then LUNA is for you, because she LOVES to get ALL of the attention from humans! She is currently being treated for anxiety with prozac (she tends to overgroom), and she is very easy to medicate. LUNA is involved with whatever her office mates are doing (such as helping them work on the computer). She's super cuddly and climbs into their laps regularly. She's also very adventurous and playful. LUNA is intelligent (she sits for treats) and she's addicted to catnip. She likes watching people and dogs outside the office, and will 'chase' birds by running along the windows. LUNA needs to be adopted into a quiet home with no other pets and no young children.
