

DESPERATE HOUSECAT MADDY A920677

We can tell that MADDY wants to be petted, and to be affectionate towards humans. However, she is a bit conflicted because she is living in a kennel surrounded by other cats (she doesn't like them). MADDY arrived at AAC as a stray with an eye injury. She spent some time in foster care, and her eye has healed well. She is not totally comfortable with humans yet, although she can be petted at times. She does seem to get overstimulated, and may swat during a petting session. We would love to see MADDY out of the shelter, either through adoption or through foster. We feel that once she has time to relax in a quiet home with no other pets, she will be a wonderful companion.
