

DESPERATE HOUSECAT PEARL A746292

PEARL wants to set the record straight! She had just one owner her entire life, but they brought her to AAC because she started being aggressive towards their children. We know that PEARL doesn't like other cats, and there were multiple felines in the home which could have been causing her stress. Away from other cats, PEARL is very affectionate and solicits attention. She will give luv nips when being petted (to return affection). She seems to be a lap cat and will follow you around. PEARL's best situation would be a home with no other cats.
