

DESPERATE HOUSECAT SUKIE 7113

SUKIE is ridiculously cute and loving – once she gets to know you. She is going to need time and patience at the beginning due to her difficult childhood. SUKIE went straight into foster after she was surrendered because her home life was not the best. She had been kept in a kennel for months and she was very angry and stressed. She was so stress she was diagnosed with Crystalluria at a vet visit (she later tested normal but should always be monitored). SUKIE is a confident and social cat when she is comfortable in her environment and feels safe. She loves to play and gets along great with most of her foster siblings. She will always have a bit of a spicy attitude if she feels uncomfortable. She is looking for a loving home where she can be spoiled rotten!
