

DESPERATE HOUSECAT WYATT 23790

WYATT LOVES other cats! He also likes people, but he's a little shy at first. He is a former community cat, and when he was brought to AAS, x-rays revealed a fracture to his left front leg. The injury was older by the time he arrived, so the window for surgical correction had already passed. WYATT moved into a foster home for medical management (including weeks of crate rest). Follow up x-rays confirmed that the fracture has formed a good bony callous, and we don't anticipate any issues in the future (he must live indoors). WYATT will do best with a cat friend in his new home, which should be a quiet environment. He likes being petted, but if you pet him too long, he'll give a little nip or simply walk away.
